LEXINGTON, VA., July 24, 1874.

The police officers brought to this place esterday a notorious borse-thief in the person of James W. Glass alias James W. Smith. and some other aliases. He was arrested for stealing a horse in Augusta, tried, and discharged for want of sufficient proof. Immediately be was arrested and brought to this place to answer the charge of stealing a horse from Mr. Parrent, of this county. Since his confinement he has been identified as from Lynchburg, and as escaped from a new jail in Campbell county, and also from the jail at Clarksburg. At both of these places he was charged with the same crime. For many years he has been operating extensively, and is said to have many confederates in Campbell and other counties. He is well known in East Virginia as a notorious thief and great jail-breaker.

A few days ago there occurred a case of poisoning at a farm house not many miles from Lexington. It seems the gentleman's daughter was detected in a correspondence with a young man of questionable character. The young girl is about nineteen years of age. The father, it is said, called his girl before him last Sabbath and gave hera whipping. On Monday she secured some strychnine, which ber father had about the house, and put it into his coffee. At once he was seized with convulsions. Fortunately a physician was passing at the time, and being called in was able to relieve the sufferer. He is now doing well. The family is of good connections.

Young Davidson, who was thrown from his borse and injured several days ago, is recovering slowly. He is still very sore in his limbs and unable to walk.

Every day a number of persons pass through our place en route for the Natural Bridge. Among those of yesterday we noticed Rev. M. B. Wharton, once of Virginia, now the popular pastor of the Walnut-Street Baptist church, Louisville, Ky. He has been in bad health for several months, and is now at the Jordan Alum Springs.

We notice on our streets Rev. Dr. Pratt, recently returned from Kentucky, who is apparently much improved in health. He expects to assume charge of the new Presbyterian University at Richmond, Ky., early in the fall. Dr. Pratt has had several years experlence in connection with the University of Alabama in its palmy days.

For some time the Presbyterians in Fairfield have held meetings of considerable interest and many additions.

The Italians who were brought here from New York by a labor agent last Sunday have been receiving rations from the Town Couneil for several days. Most of them have received employment either on the railroad or farms. All were offered places, but some declined to be separated from their companions. The agent who deserted them on Sunday night was arrested at Gordonsville and brought to this place on Thursday; has been on trial for several days, and has proved himself guiltless of the charge of abstracting money under false pretences. The census of the town has recently been taken by order of the town authorities. Total population, 3,200-whites preponderating. There are returned about 306 and knows it is not true. "Mrs. Tilton dogs, subject to a tax of $1.25. AN OLD LOVER'S LAWSUIT .-- The following romantic story is told by the Zanesville (Ohio) Times: "Forty years ago a child was born in this county of respectable pato with his color, and may be put down rentage. THE BEECHER-TILTON APPAIR-The New York papers contain voluminous additions to the testimony in the great scandal. We see little in the details that makes them worthy of republication.

The cross-examination of poor Titon was continued on Saturday. Nothing new was brought out of importance.

Tilton persisted in his denial that he had ince his suspicion of improper intimacy between her and Beecher said that she was pure. He had used words that conveyed the impression—for instance he had said that she was a Christian woman, that conveyed the idea of purity; but be had never called her a pure woman. He believed she was a good woman, and that she was deluded by her pastor under the disguise of Christianity, and thought she was not sinning when she yielded to his solicitations, &c. Titton was examined on a great many points touching Mrs. Beecher and Mrs. Tilton. He thought Mrs. Beecher hated him (Tilton). Also concerning Bowen, which are not of interest sufficient to occupy space in our paper. Tilton said the injury Beecher ! had done him might be pardoned upon confession and apology, the code of honor to the contrary notwithstanding. Tilton confessed to Mrs. Woodbull visiting his house several times to the great dissatisfaction of Mrs. Tilton. Once she came there to meet Mr. Beecher, with whom she had a long conversation.

The following are mentioned as incidents: Mr. Tracy, of counsel conducting the case before the committee in the interest of Mr. Beecher, says: "Mr. Beecher's fault was venal, though the stupidity that induced concealment was damnable.'

General Butler says he has no connection with the case; is not counsel for Mr. Tilton or Mr. Moulton, but cannot speak of the future. Of Mr. Tilton's statement the General adds: "I think it is a most unfortunate thing that it should ever have been made public. I advised very strongly against its being given to the world. It is miserable business

Mrs. Tilton and Mr. Beecher will be ready Monday night (yesterday), when the committee resumes its session, to lay before it their final statement.

MRS. WOODHULL ON THE WAR-PATH. Mrs. Victoria Woodhull went to New York for the purpose of standing trial on an indictment for libel. On her route from California to New York she was interviewed at Chicago by a reporter in reference to the Beecher case. She said of Tilton's statement that it don't go far enough. Theodore should have told all there was of it. She said she first published the scandal in her paper, but it was known long before that. She had not been in San Francisco two weeks before a dozen people came to her and said they had heard of it long before. Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, when in California, repeated it some time previous to its appearing in the Weekly. She believed Beecher to be as great and good a man as he ever was. The only thing was that preaching this Christianity he was acting a lie.

To a reporter of the New York News she said: She had read Mrs. Tilton's statement of the scandal, and had frequently asked him why he did not preach what he practiced, to which Mr. Beecher replied: "Wby. The last freight packet on the canal carried Mrs. Woodbull, my church would be empty

I am convinced that he can sustain all the allegations in Mr. Tilton's statement, and (significantly) more too, if he

[By Telegraph.] NEW YORK, July 27 .- Theodore Tilton publishes a card calling public attention to the fact that the Plymouth church committee, in its publication of testimony, omits the most important-namely: that the charged upon Beecher and Mrs. Tilton was confessed to Tilton not only by his wife but by Beecher; furthermore; that it was confessed by her and him to Mr. Moulton as the Beecher and Tilton was based on the one sole fact of this preëxisting criminality between Beecher and Mrs. Tiltov.

BROOKLYN, July 27 .- The Argus reporter has had an interview with Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, who said that "while Mrs. Bullard was still connected with the Revolution Mrs. Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Bullard, Mr. and Mrs. Tilton, and myself, were in Brooklyn together. It was in the afternoon, after calling at the office of the Recolution. Mr. Tilton and myself accompanied Mrs. Bullard to ber residence and remained to dinner. Through some misunderstanding Miss Anthony went with Mrs. Tilton, and dined with her instead of us. There was some feeling on the part of Mrs. Tilton in regard to this, although it was quite unintentional on my part. Well, at the table no one was present but Mrs. Bullard, Mr. Tilton, and myself. Theodore told the whole story observed. He did not go into the details but the sum and substance of the whole matter he related in the hearing of Mrs. Bullard and myself. We were reformers. He gave us the story as a phase of social life. The next evening hearing that Miss Anthony was a little piqued at me for leaving her on the day before, I returned to my home here in Tenafly. To my surprise I found Susan awaiting my arrival. That evestory to Mrs. Bullard and me last evening. Then I recounted all that he had told us. Miss Anthony listened attentively to the pared notes, and found that by both man and wife the same story had indeed been told. When Mr. Tilton returned home that evening some angry words, growing out of the separation in the afternoon, passed between him and his wife. Both became intensely excited: In the heat of passion and in the presence of Miss Anthony each confessed to the other of having broken the marriage vow. In the midst of these startling disclosures Miss after she heard Mrs. Tilton come cashing up the stairs and Mr. Tilton following close but Miss Anthony refused to turn the key fearing that in his passion he might kill his wife. After repeated efforts, finding that he was unable to gain admittance, he withdrew. Mrs. Tilton remained with Susan all night. Amid sobs and tears she told all to Miss Anthony. The whole story of her own faithlessness, of Mr. Beecher's course, of her deception, and of her anguish fell upon the ears of Miss Anthony, and were spoken by the lips of Mrs. Tilton.".

A Shocking Case of Infanticide-A Cruel Mother Charged with Burying her Child Alive-Naval Affairs-Ex. cursionists, de.

[Special telegrum to the Dispatch.] Portsmouth, July 27. - This morning Fannie Bradshaw, a young white woman about twenty-three years of age, from Isle of Wight county, living in the family of Mr. William Buckston, on the upper part of King street, was arrested and committed to jail on a warrant issued by Coroner Matthews, charging her with murdering her own THE CIRCUMSTANCES as detailed before a jury of inquest sitting on the body of the child on Sunday, were as follows: For several weeks Miss Bradshaw, the accused, was suspected by the lady with whom she was living (Mrs. Buckston) to be enciente. She invariably and persistently denied the charge, although her condition was such as to be unmistakable. On Friday morning last, about daybreak, Miss Bradshaw was heard to get up and go into the back yard. The circumstance being unusual Mrs. Buckston directed her son, a short time later, to go down stairs and see He is confident that he will be able to dispose what was the matter. He did so, and when of the balance of it. he reached the yard be saw Miss Bradshaw coming from the lower part of the garden with a spade in one band and a soiled apron in the other. Shocking Outrage.

RUTLAND, VT., July 27 .- A horrible case of rape and murder was revealed in St. Alban's on yesterday morning. The victim was Miss Marietta N. Ball, a teacher in the district school three miles east of this village. After the closing of her school on Friday afternoon she set out to visit a friend Tuesday. The Republicans are actively agiliving a mile distant, her course being over tating for a dissolution, and hope to have a a lonely road, partially through the woods. She was missed by her friends on Saturday evening, and search was made for her. The body was found on Sunday morning at 1 o'clock. It had been conveyed about forty rods into the woods, leaving traces of blood on the way. Miss Ball was a girl of uncommon muscular power, and appearances indicate that she made a desperate re sistance. Two men have been arrested on suspicion, but the real perpetrator is probably still at large. Intense excitement prevails.

For more than a mile out on Spring Garden avenue, Alleghany City, the marks of water rising to the height of fifteen feet, flooded the first floors of houses and in many places the second stories. Houses containing two or three families at the rear of Centre street were destroyed, and it is

In Temperanceville and Sawmill Run the elements made sad havoc. The accumulating waters rushed with mad and irresistible fury course. The track of devastation is marked by wrecks of dwellings, piles of driftwood, &c. Seven lifeless bodies have already been found, and from twenty-five to thirty persons are missing.

The iron bridge over Sawmlil run, at Main street, and five other bridges above, were swept away. At McLaughlin's, about eleven miles of this city, Baker & Co., this morning re- west, on the Pan Handle road, eleven per- Virginia Steamship and Packet

THE PROPOSED FRENCH SENATE, ETC. Paris. July 26 .- The committee of thirty have adopted, and the Government has accepted, the proposition of M. Pages Dupont, introduced in the Assembly for the creation of a Senate, which provides that the Senate shall consist of one hundred members nominated by the President, and one hundred and thirty selected from and by the Assembly, cardinals, marshals, and admirals to be members ex officio. Also, that the President of the Senate shall become provisional President of the Republic in the event of a vacancy, and the President of the Republic be empowered to dissolve the Assembly with the approval of the Senate. The committee on parliamentary initiative have agreed to recommend that M. de Malleville's motion in favor of a dissolution of the Assembly be reconsidered. They have also examined a similar motion introduced by M. Duval. Their report on the above motions will be presented to the Assembly next Monday, and the question of dissolution will consequently be again raised before that of prorogation, which was made the order for majority on Monday, as many Conservative members are absent. Fears that the dissolution of the Assembly will be carried are prevalent, and tend to FRENCH COMPLICITY WITH THE CARLISTS. London, July 26 .- The Imperial, in a strongly worded article, denounces the avowed complicity of France with the Carlists, and declares that if diplomatic representations prove ineffectual Spain must adopt a cool attitude towards France, and seek more congenial alliances.

French journals assert that the Spanish rontier is well guarded by the French authorities, and contraband of war which reaches the Carlists is imported from Eng-
